College of Sciences & Mathematics
Presents
Brain Awareness Week
March 14 - 18, 2016
Neuroscience, Ethics and the Law

Monday, March 14, 2016
10:00 - 11:00 a.m.
WAC Conference Room 4094
Jeff Schall, Ph.D.
E. Bronson Ingram Professor of Neuroscience
Professor of Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences
Vanderbilt University

"On the Interaction of Law and Neuroscience"
Dr. Schall will talk about his contributions to the book “Law and the Brain”.

Monday, March 14, 2016
5:30 p.m. - 7:30 p.m.
McWhorter 110
Screening of the film Awakenings with commentary from Dr. Pete Giordano, Psychology Department.

Tuesday, March 15, 2016
10:00 - 11:00 a.m.
WAC Lab 3085
Lori McGrew, Ph.D.
Biology Department
Belmont University

"Structures and Functions of Your Brain"
Students will dissect sheep brains to understand how the brain looks and functions.

Wednesday, March 16
10:00 a.m. - 11:00 a.m.
McWhorter 114
Reid Finlayson, Ph.D.
Department of Psychiatry
Vanderbilt University

Will speak about the effects of addiction on the brain.

Thursday, March 17, 2016
10:00 - 11:00 a.m.
WAC Lab 3085
Lori McGrew, Ph.D.
Biology Department
Belmont University

“Structures and Functions of Your Brain”
Students will dissect sheep brains to understand how the brain looks and functions.

Thursday, March 17, 2016
6:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.
McWhorter 429
Dr. Thurston Moore
Dr. Moore will discuss his work as an addiction counselor. A panel of individuals who have recovered from addiction will speak about their experiences.

Friday, March 18, 2016
10:00 - 11:00 a.m.
McWhorter 114
Mr. Blake Gilbert, a lawyer, will discuss how the brain and psychology are considered under the law.