

At the end of the spring semester, the campus community sets aside a time to recognize significant academic achievements and to explore questions and topics of compelling human interest through the presentation and celebration of outstanding student research, scholarship and creative productions from all areas of academic study.