Field Placement Program Policies

Students must successfully complete one academic year of legal education prior to participation in the field placement program. Field placements are available in a number of local courts, government entities, and public service agencies. To accommodate students interested in health law and entertainment law (areas of the law with limited non-profit options), field placements are also available in the offices of corporate (in-house) counsel.

Overview:

1. A student may apply a maximum of six hours of academic credit towards graduation for participating in field placements (i.e., up to 3 field placements each worth 2 academic credits).

2. Students may not participate in more than one field placement each semester.

3. Students may not participate for credit hours towards graduation in:
   a. more than 1 judicial field placement, defined as a field placement where the student works in the chambers of a federal or state judge,
   b. more than 1 field placement where the student primarily performs client intake interviews to determine client eligibility for legal services, or
   c. the same field placement more than once.

   The field placement director may, at the director's discretion, waive the limitations in section (3) for good cause (e.g., professional development, different positions with different responsibilities within the same organization), upon application for waiver by a student. The field placement director's waiver decision is final and not subject to appeal.

4. To earn two academic credits, the Extern must spend 100 hours on the job and complete the two field placement classroom components, which are offered in the fall and spring semesters. The classroom components cover a variety of topics and issues related to field placements.

5. The organization must be governmental, non-profit, or an in-house counsel’s office.

6. Private, for-profit law firms do not qualify for field placement job locations.

7. The Extern must not be paid for the work performed during the field placement, but may be reimbursed for reasonable expenses.

8. The Extern must be supervised at the organization by a licensed attorney (i.e., Field Placement Supervisor).

9. The Field Placement Supervisor must sign a written agreement to participate in the program and meet all program requirements.

10. The Extern must sign a written agreement to participate in the program and meet all program requirements.
11. Students select their own field placement site locations with the assistance and approval of the Director of Field Placements, Ellen Black. Site locations must be approved before registering for the course.

12. Students may not enroll in more than 17 credit hours per semester. For example, if there are 13 required credit hours in a fall semester, students who register for a field placement in that fall semester will not be able to register for a three-credit elective (e.g., Administrative Law) in that fall semester.

Program Paperwork and Evaluations:

1. The Field Placement Supervisor will complete written mid-term and final evaluations on the student in addition to signing an agreement to participate.

2. The Extern will complete a placement schedule and weekly timesheets during the semester or summer and complete an evaluation at the end of the field placement. The student will be required to establish written goals at the beginning of the semester and submit a weekly reflective journal describing how these goals are being met. All of these materials must be submitted to the Faculty Supervisor (Director of Field Placements or another faculty member). Extern will complete the classroom components on a date to be determined at the beginning of the semester.

3. The student’s academic achievement will be evaluated by the Faculty Supervisor (full-time or part-time) at the College of Law. To enable the Faculty Supervisor to evaluate the student's field placement experience and to ensure that the student is receiving pedagogically valuable work assignments at the placement, the Faculty Supervisor must be in regular communication with the student and the Field Placement Supervisor.

4. There are no exams or letter grades assigned to field placement students upon completion of their field placement. Field placement is a pass/fail course of study.

To Participate:

1. Print off field placement application from the College of Law website (under Live Client Experiences).

2. Complete and sign the Student Field Placement Application.

3. Get Field Placement Supervisor’s Agreement completed and signed, and return to the Director of Field Placements. The employer must agree to participate in the program, which includes the Field Placement Supervisor signing the Field Placement Supervisor’s Agreement prior to beginning the field placement, approving Extern Timesheets throughout the field placement, and completing the written Mid-Term and Final Evaluations.

4. Gain employer approval by the Director of Field Placements.

5. Register for the course prior to the start of the field placement.

All forms must be completed by the student and the Field Placement Supervisor and approved by the Director of Field Placements prior to beginning the field placement.

TO THE SUPERVISOR:
Thank you for your participation in the education of Belmont law students. Your role is an important one in the professional training of our students. Please take a minute to read what we consider to be the goals of the program.

The Belmont Law Field Placement Program seeks to provide students with practical experience under the supervision of practicing attorneys and judges and a faculty supervisor from the College of Law. The Program is an opportunity to improve and develop lawyering skills, incorporate the values of the profession and develop responsible habits in a practical and educational environment. All work for academic credit must be unpaid.

Listed below are activities that the law faculty considers to be worthwhile goals for a field placement experience. While it is understood that various field placement sites offer different levels of exposure to these activities, it is the expectation that students will engage in most of these activities to some degree during the course of the semester. The degree to which a student is involved in these activities, under the close supervision of the Field Placement Supervisor, usually determines the value of the program for that student. In order to meet the goals of the program, a student is expected to have extensive, supervised involvement in most of the following activities:

- Engage in challenging legal work
- Receive constructive feedback from supervisor
- Engage in legal research
- Gain exposure to situations involving issues of professional ethics
- Write legal memoranda or briefs; draft other legal documents
- Engage in case investigation
- Meet with clients
- Observe/participate trials or hearings
- Observe/participate with judges/attorneys/clerks in conferences
- Observe most aspects of chambers/agency/office operation
- Interact with other externs and with lawyers other than supervisor
- Develop a new understanding of the different roles played by lawyers
In addition, the Field Placement Supervisor is expected to participate in the work of the program by conducting regular reviews of the student’s work and submitting mid-term and final written evaluation forms. We ask for your help in making sure that the student receives regular constructive feedback about his or her work. To aid in this process, please complete the required evaluation forms and meet with your student to discuss his or her work.

While the evaluation process is often the hardest part of your task as a supervisor, it is also the most worthwhile aspect of the field placement experience for the student. Law student externs should be given responsibilities similar to those of a practicing attorney and are to be included in strategic decision-making involved in the assigned work.

If you are unable to help meet these objectives of Belmont Law’s field placement program, we ask that you not engage the student as an extern. If you are able to do so, we thank you and welcome you in our educational mission. You will play an important role in what could be one of the most significant experiences in the student’s law school career. If you have any questions or problems, please call our Director of Field Placements, Professor Ellen Black, at (615) 460-8245 or contact her by email at ellen.black@belmont.edu. The faculty does not review or evaluate any student work product completed through the Field Placement Program. Clients are not represented by the College of Law, its faculty or its administration as a result of student participation in the Field Placement Program.

Time Requirements:

A student in Belmont Law’s Field Placement Program may register for two hours of extern credit in a given semester. The student is required to work a minimum of 100 hours for two credits over the course of the semester.

Externs are notified that there may be times when additional hours are necessary. However, since most students have substantial additional responsibilities outside of their field placements, we recommend that students not be assigned regularly to tasks that would require more than 15 hours per week during the academic year.
