CHINA: INSIDE AND OUT

BELMONT UNIVERSITY
SUMMER STUDY ABROAD

JUNE 6-29, 2010
(SUMMER SESSION I)

CHINA 2010: INSIDE AND OUT

Students spend 23 days traveling and working on field projects in the People's Republic of China. The itinerary will feature business visits and cultural and historical attractions.

On June 6, we will depart for Beijing, where we will spend five days. Here in the capital of the People's Republic of China, you'll visit Tiananmen Square and the Forbidden City; Gouzijian, site of the Imperial Confucian Exams; Peking Opera; and Baiyunguan Daoist temple, where spirit masters burned the elixir of immortality.

You'll walk the Great Wall high in the mountains at Mutianyu and visit Tiantan, the Temple of Heaven, Liulichang culture and arts street, the avant garde 798 Art District, and some of Beijing's most prominent music business enterprises.

The speed train will take you to Anyang to view the ancient Oracle Bones of Henan, and we will join with Chinese college students and teachers in classes and activities. From Anyang, we'll bus to Zhengzhou and use that city as the hub for excursions to Shaolin monastery and the great Buddhist Longmen Grottoes. An overnight trip will take us to Xi'an, the Rome of Asia, where we will stay at Shaanxi Normal University before a visit to the site of the incredible underground terra-cotta army of China's first Emperor.

A flight from Xi'an to Chengdu will position us for a visit to the Sichuan forests and the giant panda reserve. Business and arts visits in Chengdu will include an opportunity for all of us to attend a workshop on Peking Opera and be costumed like the performers. A bus trip north will put us in the Jiuzhaigou scenic area. Our trip will conclude with a flight to Shanghai, one of the world's truly great global cities, where we will visit several of Shanghai's important music businesses and recording companies before our return flight to the United States.
