

PsychSource #1

The Psychology Advisor

Answers to Your Questions About the Field of Psychology

1. Should I major in psychology? What can you do with a degree in psychology? Is psychology the right choice for me? – See PsychSource# 2 - Why Major in Psychology?
2. What does it take to major in psychology? – See Psychology Degree Requirements
3. What are the requirements to major in neuroscience? – See Neuroscience Degree Requirements
4. What if I want to minor in psychology? – See Psychology Minor Requirements
5. What if I want to become a professional psychologist? – See PsychSource #3 - Choosing a Career Specialty: Graduate Study in Psychology and Type of Advanced Degree
6. Who are the psychology faculty at Belmont University and what are their interests? - See PsychSource #7 - The Psychology Faculty at Belmont University
7. How do I apply to graduate school? - See PsychSource #4 - Applying to Graduate School: Some Strategies and a Timeline
8. How do I get strong letters of recommendations for jobs or graduate school – See PsychSource #6 - Letters of Recommendation
9. What can I do with a Bachelors Degree in Psychology? - See PsychSource # 5 - The Bachelors Degree in Psychology: Employment Opportunities and Strategies
10. What kinds of student and professional organizations are available for me to join as a psychology student? – See PsychSource # 7 - The Bachelors Degree in Psychology: Employment Opportunities and Strategies

Additional Resources and References

American Association of State Psychology Boards (undated). Entry Requirements for Professional Practice of Psychology: A Guide for Students and Faculty. New York: Author.

American Psychological Association. (1986). Careers in psychology. Washington, D.C.: Author.

American Psychological Association. (In press). Getting in: A step-by-step plan for gaining admission to graduate school in psychology. Washington, D.C.: Author.

American Psychological Association. (revised biannually). Graduate Study in Psychology and Associated Fields. Washington D.C.: Author.

Benner, R. S., & Hitchcock, T. C. (1986). Life after liberal arts. Charlottesville: University of Virginia.

Bloom, L. J., & Bell, P. A. (1979). Making it in graduate school: Some reflections about the superstars. Teaching of Psychology, 6, 231-332.

Chronicle Guidance Publications (1982). Psychologists (Occupational BriefNo. 144.). Moravia, NY: Author.

Descutner, C. I., & Thelen, M. H. (1989). Graduate student and faculty perspectives about graduate school. Teaching of Psychology, 16, 58-60.

Fretz, B. R. (1976). Finding careers with a bachelor's degree in psychology. Psi Chi Newsletter, 2 (2), 5-9.

Fretz, B. R., & Stang, D. J. (1980). Preparing for Graduate Study in Psychology: Not for Seniors Only. Washington, D.C.: American Psychological Association.

Keith-Spiegel, P. (1991). The complete guide to graduate school admission: Psychology and related fields. Hillsdale, NJ: Lawrence Erlbaum.

Lock, R. D. (1988). Job search: Career planning guidebook, book II. Pacific Grove, CA: Brooks/Cole.

Lunneborg, P. W., & Wilson, V. M. (1982). Job satisfaction in different occupational areas among psychology baccalaureates. Teaching of Psychology, 12, 21-22.

Rudman, J. (1980). Psychologist (Career Examination Series No.C-627). Syosset, NY: National Learning Corporation.

Super, D. E., & Super, C. M. (1982). Opportunities in Psychology (4th ed.) Skokie, IL: National Textbook.

Waters, J., & Jacobs, M. (1975). Advice on graduate school admissions procedures. Psi Chi Newsletter, 1 (4), 3-4.

Woods, P. J. (Ed.). (1988). Is psychology for them? A guide to undergraduate advising. Washington, DC: American Psychological Association.

Woods, P. J. (Ed.). (1987). Is psychology the major for you? Washington, D.C.: American Psychological Association.

Portions of this handout were adapted from PSYCSERIES, Kennesaw State University, Marietta, Georgia.