January 28, 2009

The Athlete’s House
1700 Portland Ave.
Nashville, TN 37212

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated:______________________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

The Apple Store
2126 Abbott Martin Rd. #134
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Baja Fresh
2116 Green Hills Village Dr.
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-
Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Bistro 215
3821 Green Hills Village Dr.
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Bongo Java
2007 Belmont Blvd
Nashville, TN 37212

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Borders
2501 West End Ave.
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: _____________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Bricktop's
3000 West End Ave.
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Brooks Brothers
2126 Abbott Martin Rd. #245
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Burberry
2126 Abbott Martin Rd.
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Carrabba’s
2101 Green Hills Village Dr.
Nashville, TN  37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Cheesecake Factory
2133 Green Hills Village Dr.
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Chick-Fil-A
330 Franklin Rd
Brentwood, TN 37027

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: ______________

January 28, 2009

Cosmetic Market
4015 Hillsboro Pike
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Cracker Barrel
4323 Sidco Dr.
Nashville, TN 37204

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ______________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Davis Kidd Books
2121 Green Hills Village Dr.
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________________________

Value: __________________
January 28, 2009

Dollar General
2101 8th Ave. S
Nashville, TN 37204

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Green Hills Pediatric Associates
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

H. Audrey
4027 Hillsboro Pike Ste. 723
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Hotel Indigo
1719 West End Ave.
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

J. Alexander’s
3401 West End Ave. #260
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

J.Crew
2126 Abbott Martin Rd.
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________________________

Value: __________________
January 28, 2009

Jersey Mike’s
73 White Bridge Rd. #101
Nashville, TN 37205

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Kalamata’s
3764 Hillsboro Pike
Nashville, TN  37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ___________________________________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Kroger
4560 Harding Pike
Nashville, TN 37205

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________________________________________

Value: ____________________
January 28, 2009

Levy’s
3900 Hillsboro Pike #36
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Loews Vanderbilt Hotel
2100 West End Ave.
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Louis Vuitton
2126 Abbott Martin Rd. #264
Nashville, TN  37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Maggiano’s
3106 West End Ave.
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Maggie Moo's Ice Cream
2120 Green Hills Village Drive
Nashville, TN  37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ___________________________________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

McDonald’s
4110 Hillsboro Pike
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Nashville Predators Hockey
501 Broadway
Nashville, TN  37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: _____________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Nashville Sounds Baseball
534 Chestnut St.
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Northwestern Mutual
1600 Division St. #400
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Nashville
4014 Hillsboro Circle
Nashville, TN  37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

P.F. Chang’s
2525 West End Ave. #2535
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: _______________________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Pancake Pantry
1796 21 Ave. S
Nashville, TN  37212

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: _____________________________________________________________

Value: __________________
January 28, 2009

Pottery Barn
2126 Abbott Martin Rd. #213
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Publix

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: _________________________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Regal Cinemas
3815 Green Hills Village Dr.
Nashville, TN  37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated:

Value: __________________________
January 28, 2009

Rumba
3009 West End Ave.
Nashville, TN  37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated:

Value:

January 28, 2009

Smoothie King
4546 Harding Pike
Nashville, TN 37205

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Southwest Airlines
402 BNA Dr. #410
Nashville, TN  37217

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Starbucks
3005 West End Ave
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

Tennessee Titans
1 Titans Way
Nashville, TN 37213

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nash ville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-
Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: _________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

The Frist Center for the Visual Arts
919 Broadway
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ___________________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

The Hermitage Hotel
231 6th Ave N
Nashville, TN 37219

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________

Value: ________________
January 28, 2009

The Schermerhorn Symphony Center
1 Symphony Place
Nashville, TN 37201

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Tin Angel
3201 West End Ave.
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Trader Joe’s
3909 Hillsboro Pike
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

Union Station Hotel
1001 Broadway
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ___________________________________________________________

Value: __________________
January 28, 2009

Watermark Restaurant
507 12th Ave S
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________

Value: _______________
January 28, 2009

Wendy’s
2601 West End Ave.
Nashville, TN 37203

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: __________________________________________________________

Value: __________________
January 28, 2009

Whole Foods
4021 Hillsboro Pike
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________________________

Value: ______________
January 28, 2009

YMCA Green Hills
4041 Hillsboro Circle
Nashville, TN 37215

To Whom It May Concern:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ________________________________________________________________

Value: _________________
February 6, 2009

Kristy Rhodes
Elan Hair Stylist
3756 Hillsboro Pike
Nashville, TN 37215

Dear Kristy:

On Saturday April 4, 2009, hundreds of Nashville area families will gather at Belmont University to attend the Ninth Annual Family Literacy Day. The goal of this program is to promote the benefits of reading out loud to children in an effort to not only foster a child’s love of reading, but to strengthen the parent-child bond in doing so.

We invite your business, as a member of the Nashville community, to help us give the gift of literacy by making an item donation to our silent auction to be held February 28, 2009, or by offering a financial gift.

If you decide to participate, we would like to thank you for your contribution by listing your business name and logo in our printed program as well as verbally recognizing your support during the event.

This is an excellent opportunity to gain exposure for your business or organization as we expect over 500 attendees. Thank you in advance for your support of children’s literacy. If you have any questions, please contact Tim Stewart, Director of Service-Learning, at 615-460-5431 or stewartt@mail.belmont.edu.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Pilny
Belmont Volunteers for Literacy

Item Donated: ____________________________________________________________

Value: ________________