About this Provider

At Belmont University's College of Education, we strive to grow, develop, and support educators and leaders who teach brilliantly, innovate boldly, advocate passionately, and serve faithfully.

The College of Education offers a comprehensive and personalized educational experience designed to prepare future educators for success in diverse classroom settings. From the very first education course as a freshman, you'll have opportunities to engage directly with children and educators in school environments. Our coursework emphasizes advocacy for children, families, and communities, ensuring you are equipped to make a meaningful impact. You'll learn from nationally recognized and locally respected faculty members who bring a wealth of experience as classroom teachers, teacher leaders, and administrators. Through strong partnerships with Metro Nashville Public Schools, Williamson County Schools, and surrounding districts, you'll gain invaluable insights and hands-on practice. We take an individualized approach, offering support for teacher licensure examinations, clinical placements, and technology integration in teaching. You'll be well-prepared to design and deliver engaging, standards-aligned lessons and to use culturally responsive approaches to instruction and classroom management. Your culminating experience, a student teaching placement in your final semester, includes professional guidance from a mentor teacher, faculty members, and a clinical teaching supervisor. Belmont's College of Education equips you to make a lasting difference in the lives of children.
